The Best Stocks in a Box!

When someone asks me for cooking advice, I usually tell them, "invest in stock." Not the financial kind, the chicken, beef and vegetable kind. I also know most people don't have time to make their own. So I figured why not help these folks out by making the same kind of home made stocks I use in my restaurants. They're slowly simmered with only the best ingredients. If it's not found in nature, you won't find it in here. Then we pack it up. And BAM! You've got my home-style stock, ready to use right in your home.
